

Firefox Browser

1. Click the bars in the top right of your window and then select Options.

2. Select Privacy on the left and:

- a) You do need to choose Use Custom Settings for History.
- b) It is your choice to check or uncheck the first 2 boxes about remembering what you did in your browser.
- c) Third-party Cookies are rarely a good thing because they allow sites to track you better, but you can choose any option between: "Always", "From Visited", or "Never" – I always choose Never and put in an exception (next step) if I want to use a site that insists on these cookies.

3. Choose Exceptions on the far right (above) and the box below will pop up.
 - a) Key in nosox.com in the box and.
 - b) Click Allow for Session.
